

CFE Tax Advisers Europe presents

Albert J. Rädler Medal Award

Encouraging Academic Excellence in European Taxation

CFE Tax Advisers Europe is pleased to announce the 2018 Albert J. Rädler Medal Award. CFE Tax Advisers Europe is a Brussels-based umbrella association representing European tax advisers. Founded in 1959, CFE brings together 30 national organisations from 24 European countries, representing more than 200,000 tax advisers. CFE is part of the European Union Transparency Register no. 3543183647-05.

CFE launched this process to encourage academic excellence among young tax students and to commemorate the late tax adviser and Professor Albert J. Rädler (1933 – 2012).

We welcome applications from tax students who fulfil the following criteria:

- Master's dissertation by a student having achieved distinction in the relevant calendar year (2017/ 2018) on topics of European Taxation (taxation policy or tax law);
- Young students: the prize shall be awarded to a student aged 30 years or under on the 31st December 2019;
- Language requirements: dissertation written in English or translated into English;
- Application: please send a PDF of your dissertation alongside an updated CV indicating your date of birth;
- Deadline: to be submitted by 18th January 2019 via email;
- Award: the Medal is awarded at the CFE Forum in Brussels, our flagship international tax conference;
- The CFE Office shall arrange travel and accommodation for the successful candidate: an economy flight or train ticket, accommodation in Brussels and complimentary academic literature from our publishing partner IBFD.

Please send the applications until 18th January 2019 to the attention of Ms Karima Baakil, CFE Tax Advisers Europe Office, via email at: info@taxadviserseurope.org
